Humans and horses have always worked as partners in extending the world's frontiers. Today, the vast territory of human consciousness stretches before us, where the best in the human spirit resonates with the mythic power of horses, calling us to something new and deeper. In that resonance we find the momentum we need to meet the unprecedented challenges that face us in these times. We find partners for our own Journey to Completion.

Reclaim the Dream. . .

- Experience how horses can lead us to new solutions for ourselves & our world.
- Discover the heart of interaction with horses with reproducible, effective techniques for transforming shadow aspects of yourself into great giftedness.
- Take center stage in your own life with renewed trust, intimacy, joy, gratitude and vigor.
- Clarify your soul purpose, and recover personal power.
- For an added bonus, participate with your own horse.

Facilitated by Two Women and Several Horses:

Trish Broersma wrote the best selling Riding into Your Mythic Life: Transformational Adventures with the Horse, based on her work with myth and the horse/human connection. She is former director of HOPE Equestrian Center and a registered therapeutic riding instructor. She is immediate past president of the Equine Facilitated Mental Health Association for promoting safety and professionalism in equine facilitated learning and psychotherapy.

Norma Nakai Burton was raised in the Seneca Iroquois tradition, initiated with shamans of Central and South America, and commissioned as an authentic, powerful teacher. She has done graduate studies in psychology and comparative religions at Harvard and UC Berkeley. She created the Journey to Completion, a process for balancing dreamtime and ordinary consciousness, which is the foundation for shamanic vision quests she has conducted with hundreds of people with horses since 1993.

The Horses: We invite you to participate in this transformational time with your own horse or a horse that you know. Otherwise, we will provide you with a horse to work with. Participants can expect to discover a refreshingly new relationship between horse and human, where the horse becomes one of the teachers and facilitators.

*"Trish is an accomplished artist/teacher; she imparts passion, understanding and life-changing delight in her mythic work with horses."
- Peggy Rubin, Center for Sacred Theatre*

*". . . what I experienced this summer with Trish was a spectacular experience that changed my life and my clients' lives."
- Khari Manuel, Lithia Springs Home*

*"Norma brings to her work a remarkable range and depth of study, training, skill and understanding, which she offers with openness, sensitivity, intimacy and humility."
- Elaine Pura, Business Owner & Artist*

*"I am truly in my body in a way I never had been before my work with Norma, and I am in the world in a way I'd never experienced, as well."
- Alexandria Pallas, PhD*
